Na „memo se na Kontu /
Meet Us At Kontu

Prošetajte danas s nama po Kontu i otkrit ćete kako je ovo mjesto nekoc bilo povijesna granica između dviju sukobljenih nacija. Danas stari prijatelji sjede u hladu prisjećajući se minulih vremena dok neki novi klinci jure na biciklima među cvijećem. Pažljivo osluhnite i ćut ćete kako Rječina pjeva moru unatoč prometnoj buci. Sjedinte sa nama na tren, dok svjetla dana polako blijede, i pojavit će se sasvim nova lica. Političke i nacionalne granice su odavno izbrisane ali zamjenile su ih one druge, teže uočljive. Dobro pogledajte i otkrit ćete nevidljivu liniju koja razdvaja mlade od starih, noć od dana, mainstream i alternativce, djecu i odrasle, prirodu i gradski život, posao i rekreaciju, smrad kanala i miris cvijeća. Dodite i prošetajte s nama. Nađemo se na Kontu ☺

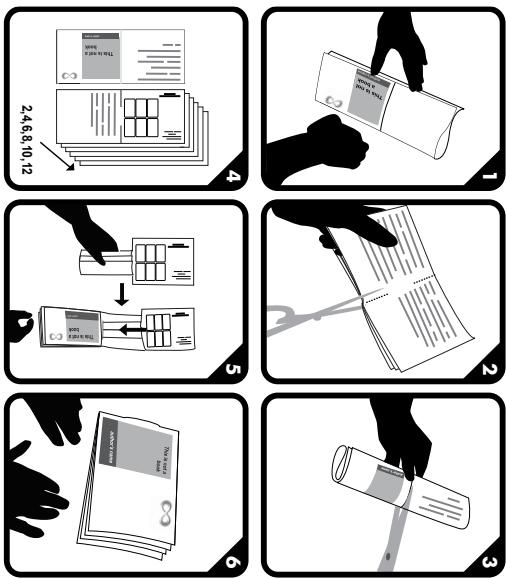

Take a walk through Kont Square today, and you would never guess that it was once the site of a historical barrier between two conflicting nations. Old friends sit in the peaceful shade, reminiscing about the old days, while children on bikes weave between flower pots. Over the noises of traffic, you can hear the river Rječina singing to the sea. But sit here for awhile, let the light fade, and a whole new crowd appears. Political and national borders may have moved long ago, but new divisions have appeared. Look hard enough and you will see an invisible line which divides young & old, night & day, mainstream & alternative, children and adults, nature and city life, work and recreation, canal aroma and flower perfume. Come take a walk with us. Meet us at Kont ☺
