

A Sketchbook of Lancaster

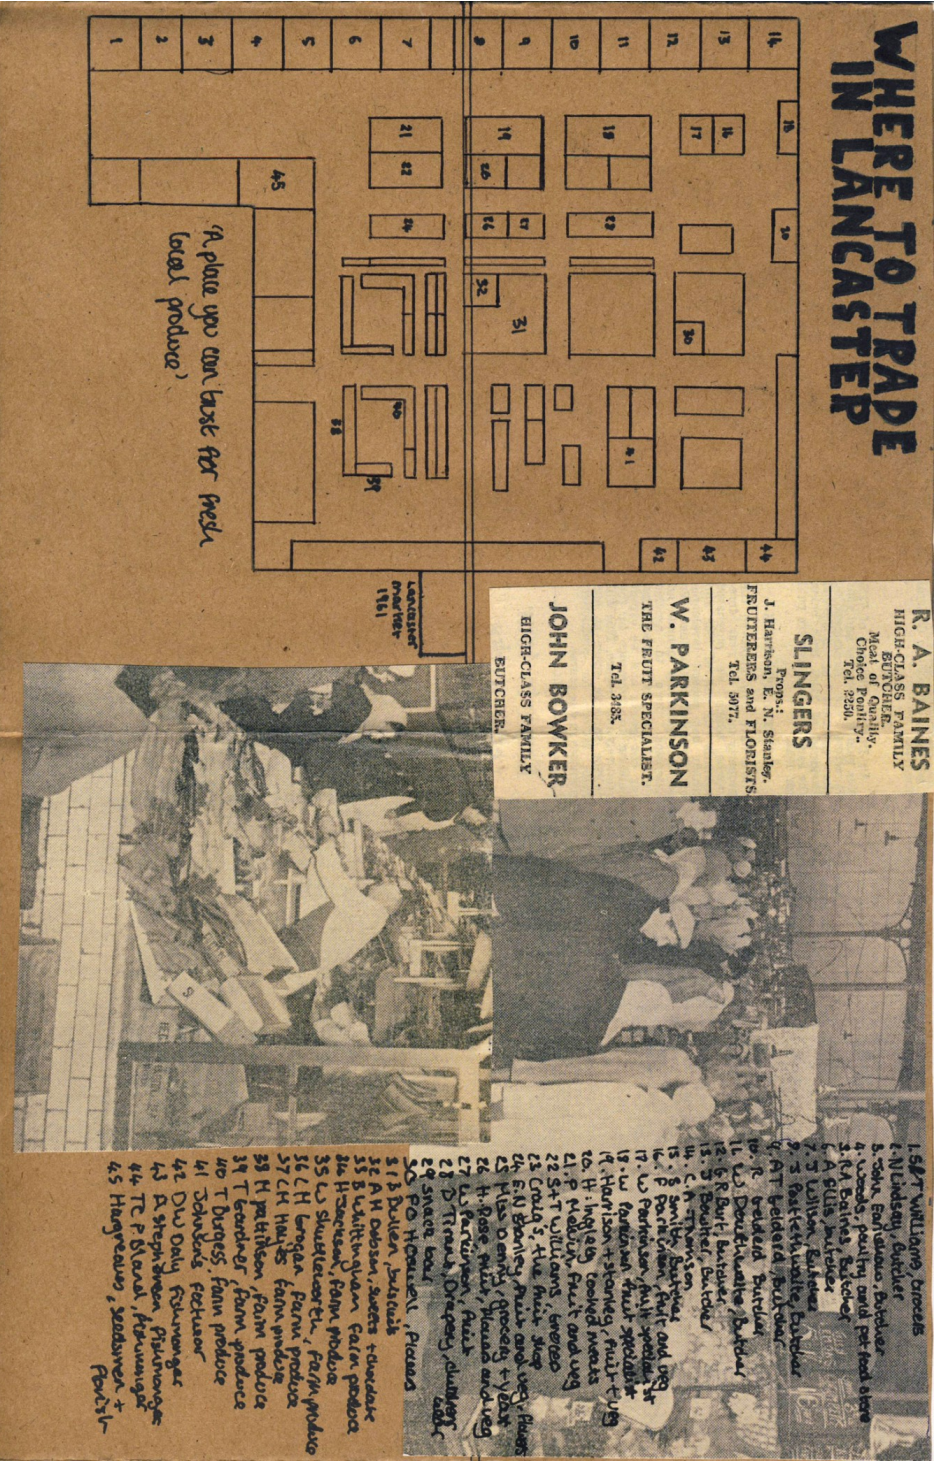

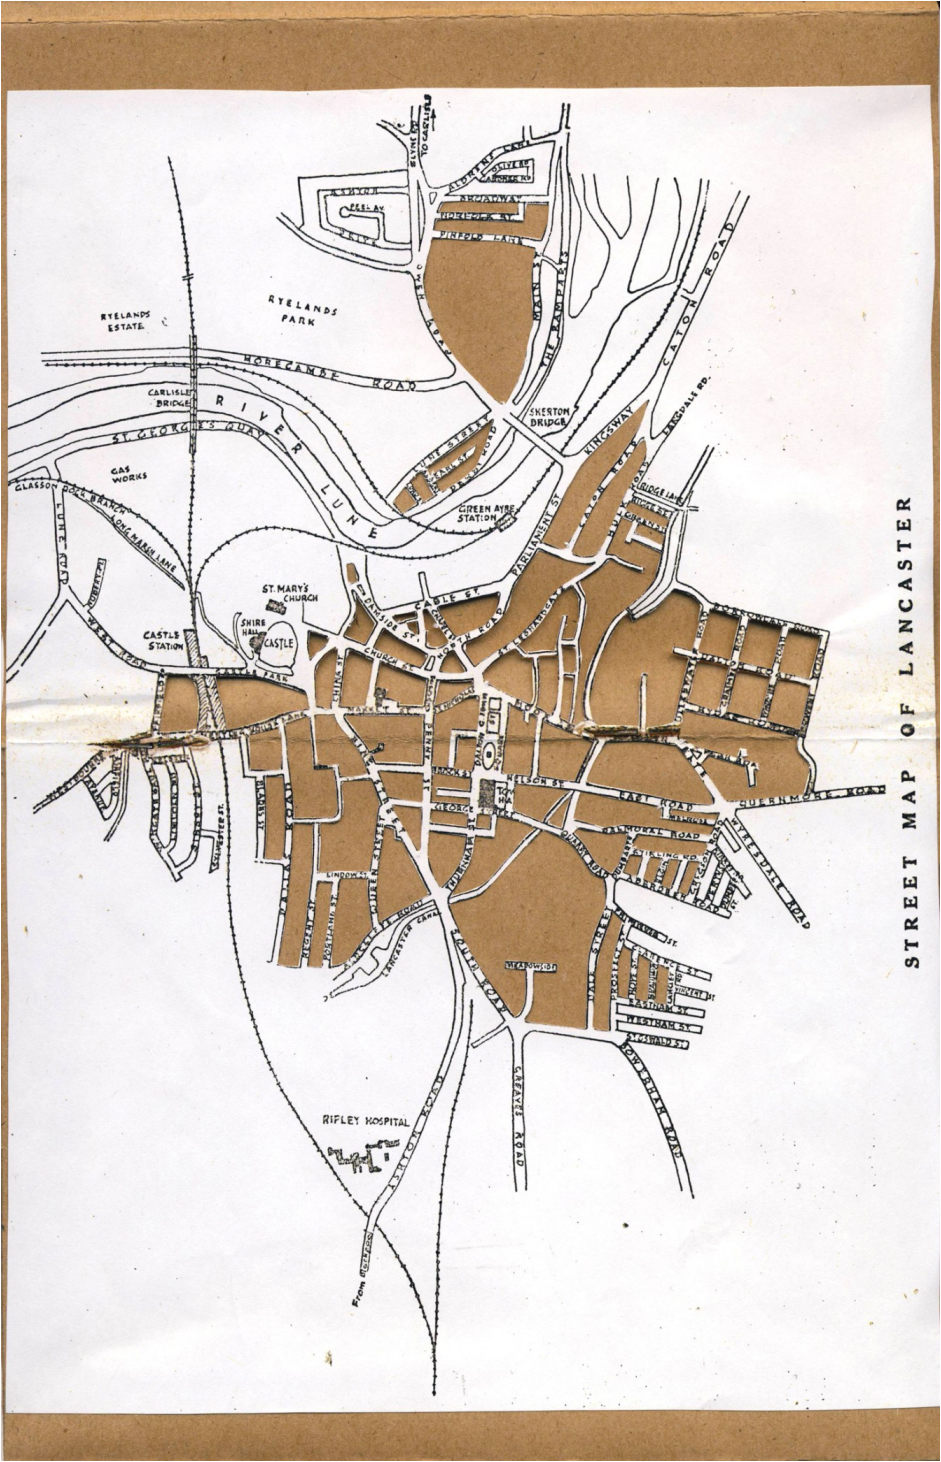

Caroline MacLennan

A book created by Caroline MacLennan as part of the project As It Comes by Alice Angus, commissioned by Mid Pennine Arts.

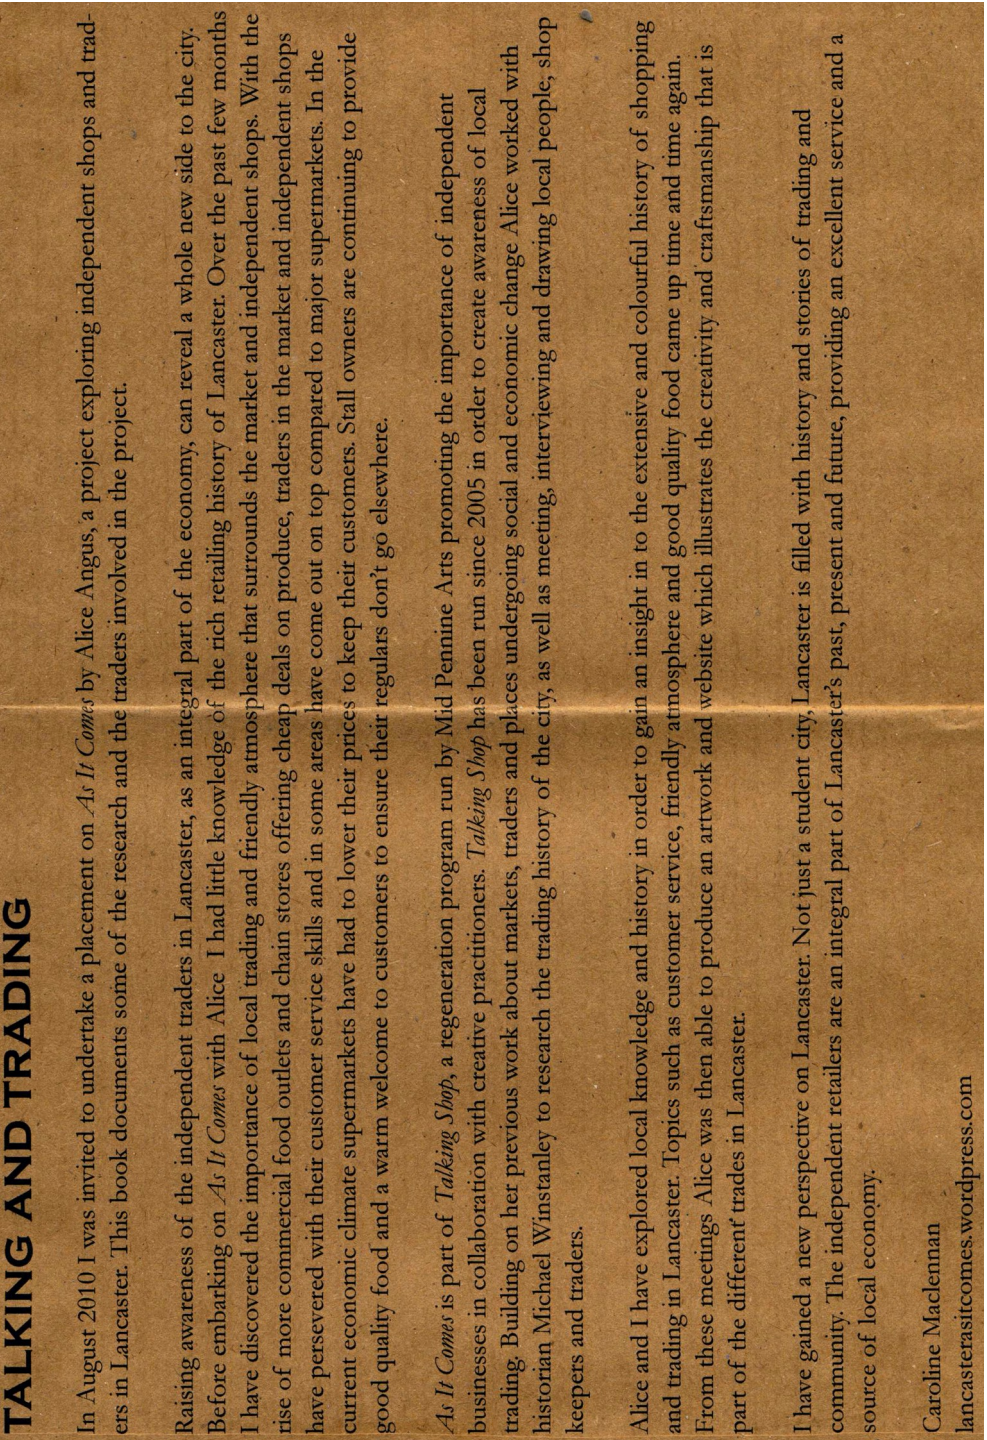

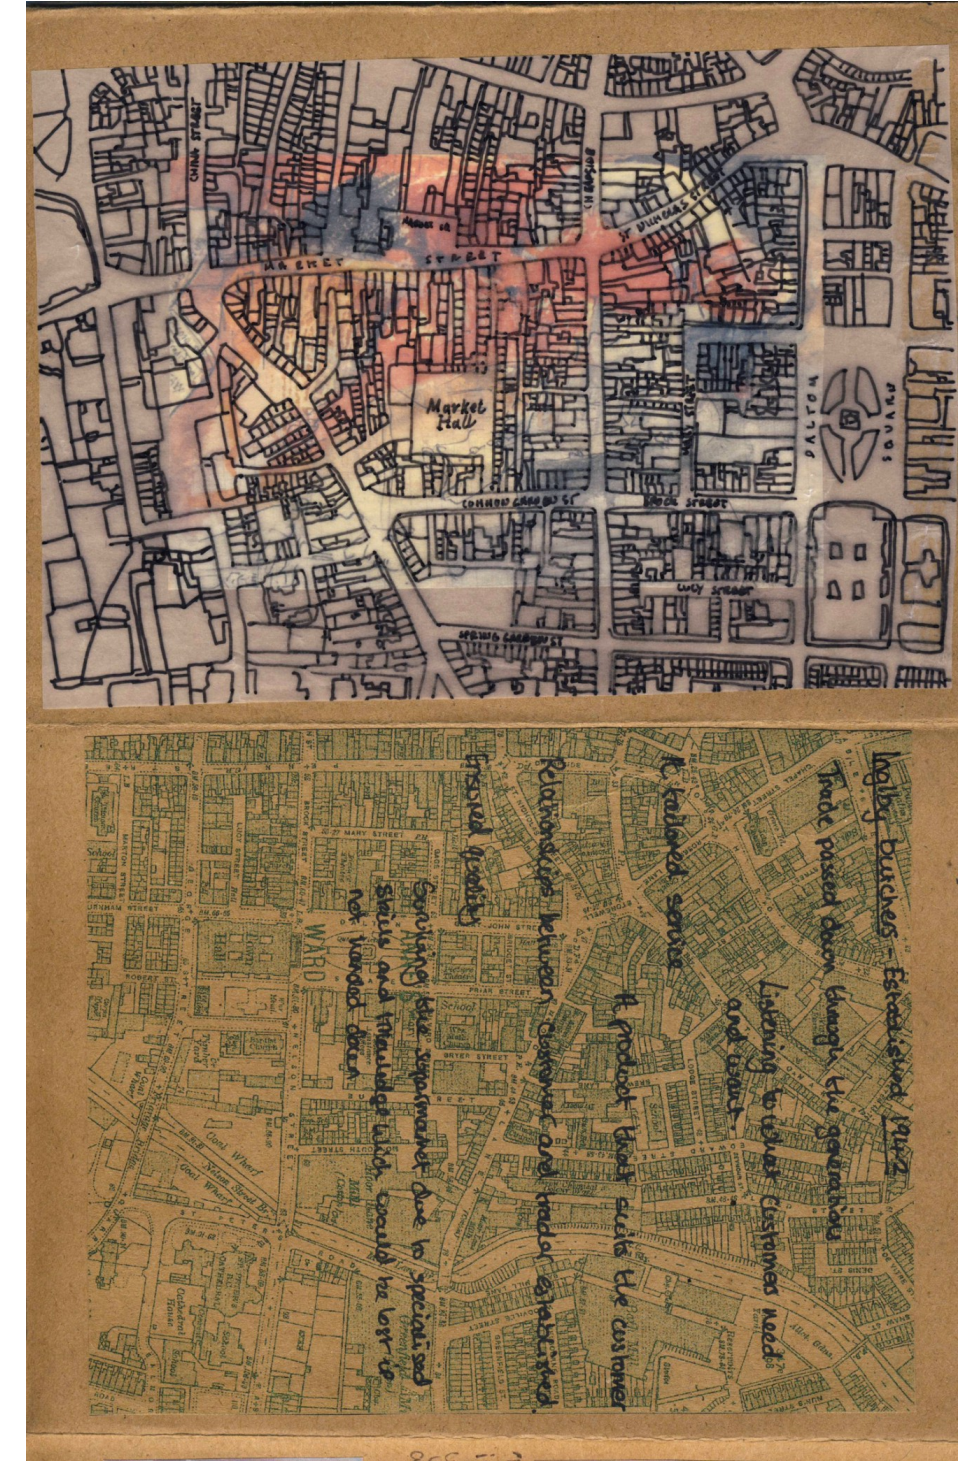

2010-11-30

made with www.bookleeteer.com from proboscis

GORRIUS

PENNY STREET
LANCASTER

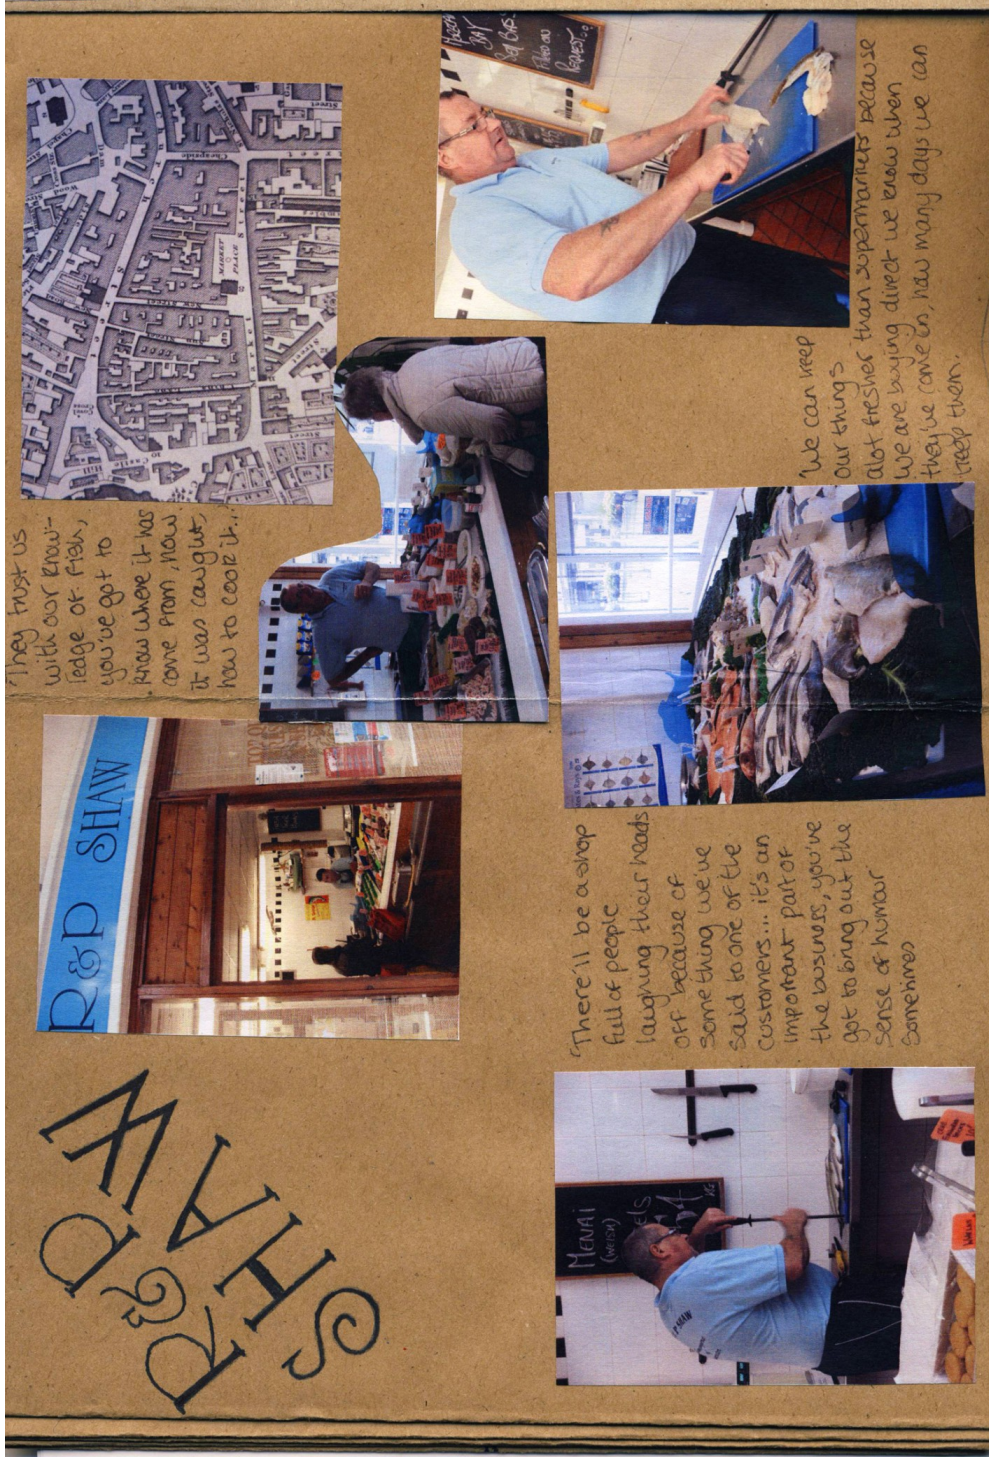

Lancaster itself, the town was where all the food was, in the market and around nearby

Children's and Babywear

We provide a service that nobody else in the town and very few in the north west provides now.

SHAW R&D

There'll be a shop full of people laughing their heads off because of something we've said to one of the customers... it's an important part of the business, you've got to bring out the sense of humour. Sometimes

M

There's a rapport between the customers and traders that you just can't get in the supermarket, and I think that's why there'll always be a place for independent traders.

... I think you get nervous advice and because they are interested in what they are selling, if you go in anywhere and there is just someone behind the counter, they are not interested in you...

So I've all made friends with the customers, we know their first names

SCULPTURE
JEWELLERY
ARTWORK

GLASS
TEXTILES
CERAMICS

THE EDGE GALLERY

[illegible]

Wonders

...it's nice to be served by the same person and build up a relationship... you are more than likely to know where your produce came from...

BEBE BABETTE

VINTAGE CLOTHES & COSTUME HIRE

OPEN

The markets are a meeting place for people, so long they reign - the big chains and supermarkets are making the high streets like ghost towns

ASSEMBLY ROOMS

and the Picture Framing Workshop

THE widest range of unusual greetings cards, gift wrap and paper product gifts, together with the most comprehensive picture framing service in the area

Open Monday to Saturday 9.30am - 5.00pm
66 Market Street, Lancaster. Tel: (01524) 366336
(and Post Office)

Jennifer Prichard

there is a rapport between the customers and traders that you just can't get in a supermarket and I think that's why there will always be a place for independent traders.

the last suit I have on the cutting table will probably be the last suit ever cut in Lancaster

Made to Measure
Bridal Gowns of Excellence

from Burgess cheese to...

...in the old market... you could buy fresh all the time...

M Green & Son
Household Textiles

NEAR MARKET
from Old Market, 27 to Market Street
1 Jackson, John, brush maker
2 Jackson, William, bonnet maker
3 & 5 Head Post Office
17 Whittaker, J. W., house furniture
18 & 19 James & Son, tailors, drapers, &c.
21 Robinson, E., dressmaker, draper, &c.
23 Dyer & Son, fancy goods repository
25 & 26 Lane to Market Street

Hester's
Haberdashery

...textiles, sewing and wool.
...when things were built, made, it was more interesting... maybe don't get to see even today of the production

