

dodolab

rijeka, the city of diversities

sanja orlić, kristina utković, ferdinand četaj (DodoLab)

made with www.bookleeteer.com from proboscis

This ebbok was produced by participants in a Youth Workshop on public spaces run in Rijeka, Croatia, by Andrew Hunter and Lea Perinic, June 18-19, 2010.

2010-06-19

Rijeka je grad koji posjetiteljima sam priča svoje priče, dovoljno je samo pažljivo slušati i uživati u njihovoj raznolikosti. Raznolikost je riječ koja najbolje opisuje ovaj grad. Zanimljivo je koliko različitih stvari i ljudi možete susresti na jednom mjestu, no još je zanimljivije koliko je ta raznolikost prihvaćena od strane ljudi koji ovdje žive, te onih koji Rijeku samo posjećuju □

Rijeka is a city that tells its own stories to visitors; it is enough to listen to them carefully and to enjoy their diversity. Diversity is a word that describes the city best. It is interesting how many different people and things can be found at one place, but it is even more interesting how much diversity is accepted by people who live here and by those who just visit Rijeka.

